CHILI'S PRESIDENT.

The Next One Will Soon Be Selected.

WHO IT WILL PROBABLY BE.

Don Augustin Edwards, One of the Wealthiest Men in Chili, is the Favorite with the New Government—The Latest Information from Valparaiso.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—It is reported here on the strength of statements made by the congressional agents in Paris and London, that Don Augustin Edwards will be the next president of Chili. He is one of the wealthiest, if not the wealthiest of Chilianians, and in the earlier period of the insurrection he supplied funds lavishly for the support of the revolutionary cause.

He has many friends in the higher class in England on the continent, and is largely interested in the nitrate trade. He has a splendid farm in Chili, which, up to the time of the war, was stocked with the best blooded cattle that money could obtain in Europe. These cattle, during the war, were slaughtered for food for Balmaceda's troops, and the property of Edwards both in city and country was laid waste. He narrowly escaped with his own life. The congressionalists have always looked to him as their leading representative, although he has not taken personal part in naval or military affairs.

The active head of the revolution has been George Montt, who, with Silva and Barros Luco, formed the governing junta. It is said that Montt is in favor of Edwards for president. The congressionalists have within the past few days brought strong pressure to bear on the British foreign office to secure British influence against the transfer to Balmaceda of the silver shipped from Valparaiso on a British war vessel.

There is very little likelihood that the treasure will be turned over to Balmaceda.

No Change Reported to Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The Chilian situation, so far as the United States government is advised, has not changed within the past twenty-four hours. The last dispatches received are merely of a confirmatory character, and throws but little additional light on affairs. No steps have been taken towards recognizing the insurgent party as the ruling party of Chili. Neither Chilian Minister Lazcano nor the congressional envoys, Messrs. Montt and Foster, were at the state department. Secretary Blaine is kept constantly advised by Acting Secretary Wharton of the Chilian situation.

AGED COUPLE MURDERED.

Their Bodies Thrown Into an Old Well on Their Farm.

HARTFORD, Sept. 1.—Yesterday morning Frederick Bushenagen and his wife Emily, each past seventy, who came from Germany forty years ago and who lived on a farm a half mile from the main road, in a secluded section of the town of Bloomfield, west of Hartford, were found in an old well on their place, showing evidence that they had been murdered.

About dark Sunday night James Ryan, a neighbor, while crossing the farm noticed one of Bushenagen's cows wandering around the house. Ryan rapped at the door, and, receiving no response, supposed the inmates were asleep. He put the cow into the barn. Returning by the house at 9 p. m. he again called, and failing to arouse anybody, examined the outside of the building and found blood on the rear doo-step. He aroused the neighbors, and together they searched the house and fields, but could not find the old people.

At 6 a. m. yesterday the search was renewed. There were blood stains and traces of a scuffle on the yard fence and marks in the earth led to the well where the deceased was found. It seems probable that the tragedy occurred early Sunday morning, and that the murderer was a tramp who slept in the barn Saturday night. It is thought that Bushenagen found him there Sunday morning on going out for fire wood; that a quarrel occurred and that the old man was killed by four blows with a coupling pin, which was found near the barn.

The supposition is that the aged woman ran out half dressed to aid her husband. On her body there was only a chemise, a skirt and a stocking. The murderer probably deemed it best to silence the only witness of his crime, and seizing a club he killed her. There was no robbery, and it is evident that the murderer did not enter the house.

The officers believe that the murder grew out of the row caused by the old man finding the tramp in the barn, or by the latter's demanding money. About 7 a. m. Sunday, residents on the main road near the scene of the murder, saw a tramp pass towards Hartford. He was a large man, heavily built, with two weeks' growth of beard, wearing overalls and a dark coat, with an overcoat thrown over his shoulder. The coroner has begun an investigation. At present there is no clew to the identity of the murderer. Bushenagen served in the Twenty-second Connecticut regiment. As age came on he has not been able to do much on his little farm, and the couple were very poor. A bank book was found on the table in the house showing $50 on deposit in the Hartford Savings bank.

Cause of the Wreck.

STATESVILLE, Sept. 1.—The jury in the Boston bridge disaster case brought in a verdict yesterday attributing the wreck to a loose rail, from which the spikes had been removed by unknown persons. The jury also found several cross ties near the loose rail unsound, and censure the railroad company for running trains over the bridge, the superstructure of which they found defective, at a high rate of speed.

OUR NAVY'S NEEDS.

Better Discipline is one of the Things Most Necessary.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The late publication of the difficulty between Gherardi and Walker when the letter reached the port of Port-au-Prince with his squadron of evolution has brought to mind among those who know something of the two officers the strong contrast between them. When the new fleet of war vessels was ready for sea it was supposed by those familiar with the ordinary procedure of the navy, that Admiral Gherardi would be appointed to command it. He was a senior both in years and in point of service, and he had seen more sea duty than any other admiral in the navy, was a thorough seaman in every respect, and competent personally to handle any vessel that was in the navy or might be put there, he had gained admirable renown in action and in every way was the most competent to command the new fleet. But Admiral Walker was known as "the admiral with a political pull." He had been in the lighthouse service as secretary of the lighthouse board for some years, and during that time he had frequently received orders for sea duty, which he always succeeded in having countermanded. He did not want to go to sea. He was having an excellent time on shore, and he preferred that easy life to the hardships and work that would necessarily devolve upon an officer in active service. "I remember," said an ex-officer of the lighthouse, "meeting Walker at the Ebbitt House some years ago when he was comfortably full, and he had just received orders for sea duty. 'When do you go?' I asked.

"'Go, hell!' he replied. 'I am not going at all; I am going up to the department and tell them I won't go.' And he did not go."

When the rehabilitation of the navy commenced and the ships were being hurried forward to completion in the Democratic administration, Admiral Walker was a constant companion of Secretary Whitney and became very intimate with that cabinet officer. He realized that the new fleet would be something for him far beyond anything that the navy had ever possessed before, and that it would be a great thing to be selected to command it. Consequently he used every political string that he possessed and was successful, much to the chagrin of Admiral Gherardi, who scorned to make any plea in his behalf except that of long, faithful and honorable service.

The naval officer with whom I was talking since the publication of Admiral Gherardi's severe lesson to his junior officer, said that the feeling among the naval officers was that Walker was served perfectly right. "It is a shame," he continued, "that this man, merely from the strength of his political influence, should have been able to wrest the honor of commanding the first fleet of new vessels from an officer so noble, patriotic and modest as Admiral Gherardi.

Things like this do more to lessen the morale of the service than anything else. You know during the war how we suffered from political generals until, finally, General Grant took command of the army of the Potomac, and then there was no more politics in the army. It was simply fight. Something has got to happen in the navy which will prevent favoritism on account of political influence or we shall never be a united and harmonious corps.

It remains to be seen whether Secretary Tracy has the nerve to act upon the report which Admiral Gherardi sent to the department in regard to the insubordination of the commander of the squadron of evolution or not. It is understood that Admiral Walker was guilty of the same act of insubordination at Newport recently, and that the report of that affair is now in the hands of the secretary.

Fire in Canning Factories.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1—Fire broke out Saturday night in the three-story frame building occupied by A. Lusk & Company, canners, and the California Automatic Canning company. The total loss amounts to $100,000, divided as follows: Automatic company, loss on machinery and stock, $70,000; insured for $37,000. A. Lusk & Company, loss on machinery and stock, $20,000; on building, $10,000; fully insured. The fire was started from a smoke-stack.

Secret Order of Boomers.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 1.—A special to The Times-Star from Arkansas City, Kan., says: It was learned yesterday that a secret order of boomers has been organized all along the border of southern Kansas. Already over 3,000 members have been sworn in. They propose to arm themselves early in October and make a raid on the Cherokee strip. They will burn the grass, kill the cattle and make a determined stand to hold the strip for homes.

Investigating the Affair.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Coroner Hanley issued subpoenas last Saturday to about eighty people who identified bodies taken from the Park Place disaster, to appear before him yesterday and make affidavits of identification. This is done to facilitate the work of the jury at the inquest which will begin tomorrow morning. There was a steady stream of callers all day, and the clerks were kept busy taking statements and making affidavits.

Carboy of Gasoline Explodes.

DENVER, Sept. 1.—Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock fire started in the Kirby House, on Fifteenth street. While the firemen were fighting the fire a carboy, containing fifteen cans of gasoline, which was on the first floor, exploded and blew a great hole in the front wall. T. E. Rowley, who was on the sidewalk in front of the house, was blown into the middle of the street and was fatally injured. Several other persons were injured by being struck by flying brick, but none of them seriously. The damage to the house is about $3,000; no insurance.

TRAVELERS' TERROR

Wrecks on Several Different Railroads.

ONE NEAR TROY, INDIANA.

A Passenger Train on the Cannetton Branch of the Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis Railroad Plunges Down an Embankment, Killing Four People, Injuring Thirteen Others Seriously and Eighteen Slightly—Other Railroad Accidents.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 1.—A wreck occurred on the Cannetton branch of the Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis railroad about 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon, in which four lives were lost, thirteen badly hurt and eighteen slightly injured. The flange of one of the forward trucks of the engine broke while the train was running at the rate of about thirty miles an hour.

The train at the time was on a trestle two miles from Troy, Ind. The engine passed over the trestle and plunged down an embankment. The train was a mixed one, the passenger coach being next to the engine. The coach followed the engine into the ditch and rolled over on top of it. It was occupied by about thirty people. The steam pipes gave way and the scalding steam entered the coach. Many of the passengers were women and children. Their screams were appalling.

As soon as those who were slightly injured extricated themselves, they began the work of rescue. All were gotten out, but none escaped injury. Many were so badly burned that their flesh was cooked in places until it came off.

Barbara Niemeyer, eighteen years, daughter of a wealthy farmer of Perry county, was taken out dead, having been terribly scalded.

Mrs. Canaugh, of Troy, Ind., was horribly burned and will die. Her little ten-year-old son was taken from the wrecked coach and died before reaching home.

Emma Schne, ten years, died after being torn out from her terrible burns. Jacob App, engineer, and his fireman John Tolle, went down with the wreck. Both are scalded but not fatally.

Conductor James Gordon is dangerously hurt, having a number of ribs broken.

The most severely injured are: Katie Kelshoe, Sidney Hess, Henry Bodine, Michael Elberthorn, William Newman, Mrs. William Chase and child, Maggie Hudson, Maurice Durbin and G. F. Bolt. The wounded are all at Tell City, and are receiving careful attention.

The scene of the wreck is isolated and the information is meager. Only one telegraph wire reaches it, and that has been down for hours. It is impossible to learn the names of all of the injured. A physician at the wreck said that the death list would probably reach ten or twelve.

Freight Train Wrecked.

PRINCETON, Minn., Sept. 1.—An accident occurred on the Eastern Minnesota railroad three miles west of here yesterday. Freight No. 22, bound for St. Paul, was running in two sections. A dense fog prevailed at the time and the second section, which consisted of an engine and a caboose, crashed into the first section. In the caboose were Conductor Young, Brakeman Cardle, Colin Campbell and James Baker, of Milaca. They were more or less severely injured, but none of them fatally.

Passenger Trains Delayed.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Sept. 1.—At 8 o'clock yesterday evening several oil cars in a Central Hudson railroad freight train left the eastbound track, owing to a defective truck, a mile east of the Schenectady station. The entire four tracks were completely blocked, and it was three hours before the westward bound trains Nos. 35, 15 and 5 were able to go forward. No person was injured, and but little damage was done.

Freight Wreck Caused by Overwork.

NORWALK, O., Sept. 1.—Quite a disastrous wreck occurred on the Lake Shore road yesterday, at Millburn. Two freight trains collided, and engines Nos. 513 and 517 were badly damaged. Twelve hundred bushels of wheat were scattered along the track. One of the engineers was asleep at the time of the accident. He had had but five hours sleep during the past week.

PARK PLACE RUINS.

Several More Bodies Taken From the Ruins.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Mayor Grant, yesterday visited the scene of the ruins in Park place and found the ghastly remains of one body and the leg of another under the sidewalk. The mayor at once ordered the ruins to be searched for more bodies. Louis Rosenfeld, of Rosenfeld & Company, identified the body as Abraham Divervitch, aged seventeen years.

When the other body was brought out it was found

MIDDLEBOROUGH people have some singular ideas about entertaining visitors. They gave a ball last week in honor of the State's Sunday school workers.

The Louisville Star remarks that the number of business failures in that city amongst the large concerns is alarming. And the Louisville colony in Canada is getting larger and larger.

LOUISVILLE is developing more thieves in her financial institutions than any city of her size in the country. The amount of stealing done in the past year by her bankers is enough to shake public confidence in all her banking institutions. The only remedy is to hunt up the thieves and send them to the penitentiary instead of aiding them to escape to Canada.

"JENKINS," of the Cincinnati Post, says: "Whether Congressman Jerry Simpson himself wears socks or not, he certainly 'knocks the socks' off the tariff tooters with such ugly questions as the following: 'If tariffs raise wages why is it that Great Britain, a free-trade country, pays twice the wages protected Italy does? Why is it that Great Britain pays double to her wage-earners what she paid in 1847, when she became a free-trade country? Why is it that Great Britain pays her laborers one-third more than the laborers receive in the protected countries of Europe?'"

Deadly Weapons.

The Court of Appeals has lately decided that any object or thing that may be used by one in shooting, striking, or cutting another, so as to endanger life, is, when so used, a deadly weapon, within the meaning of section 2, article 6, chapter 29 of the General Statutes. Whether a particular object is a deadly weapon depends upon its nature and the manner of its use, and is a question, when doubtful, for a jury to determine.

The first conviction under this ruling was that of the negro George Taylor in the Greenup Circuit Court last week. Taylor assaulted Captain George Killim, of South Portsmouth, a month or so ago with a club and came near beating him to death. Under the law previous to the above ruling he would have escaped with a light sentence for assault and battery, but under the new ruling he goes up for two years. And he gets off easy with that. He ought to have been sent up for a much longer term, as his crime was a most brutal one.

Crop Prospects Encouraging.

Following is the weekly crop bulletin of the Kentucky State Weather Service, in co-operation with the United States Weather Bureau, for the week ending August 28, 1891: "The weather of the past week was characterised by a very large deficiency in temperature, an excessive rainfall and of nearly normal amount of sunshine. Reports received from eighty points in the State indicate that these conditions were generally favorable to growing crops. The growth of corn was somewhat retarded by the cool weather, but the low temperature of the week was generally favorable to tobacco. But crops were damaged in places by high winds, and there is much complaint of injury to tobacco on low ground from overflow. The outlook for corn continues to be most favorable, and in all probability one of the largest crops ever known will be harvested this year. Tobacco, while in better condition now than it was some time since, will not reach an average crop. Late fruits and vegetables are fine and very abundant. The moist condition of the soil favors fall plowing, which is progressing rapidly."

Railway News.

The C. & O. continues to show remarkable gains in its earnings, the third week of August earning $191,120; increase this year over corresponding period of 1890, $482,178.

According to Poor's Manual there are in the world something over 370,000 miles of railway, of which 166,817 miles are in the United States. Our lines cost $8,789,221,516, or about one-eighth of the wealth of the Union. They are stocked at $4,640,239,578 and are bonded for $5,105,902,025 and have other debts against them amounting to $6,400,000—a total liability of $16,146,149,608, of which $7,401,000 represent "water." The fortunes of the Vanderbilts, Gould, Sage, Dillon, Huntington, Stanford and other plutocrats were made by the "watering" process—a mere stroke of the pen, says the Louisville Times, commenting on the above.

Gratifying to All.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based and are abundantly gratifying to the California Fig Syrup Company.

NEWS FROM LEWIS.

Teachers' Institute—Graduating Exercises—Diphtheria—Personal Paragraphs.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson are spending a few days at Louisburg, Ky.

Bertram Doyle has gone to Martin to teach the public school.

Miss Maggie Harrison spent Friday and Saturday with friends here.

Miss Lucy Vorhees, of Kirk Springs, visited friends here during the past week.

The Knights of Pythias will organize a lodge at Quincy this evening. A number of K. of P. from this place will attend.

Miss Mamie Conboy and Miss Julia Riley, of Covington, left for their home yesterday after three weeks' visit here.

Diphtheria is epidemic at the tannery on lower Kinney. Dr. Wells reports twelve cases, and there have been three deaths in the past ten days.

Burns Chapter initiated three members in the Royal Arch Degree Friday night, viz: N. B. Fisher, James E. Darragh and A. J. Billings. The banquet at the St. Charles was richly enjoyed by all.

The Oddfellows have fitted up an elegant hall on Third and Market streets and will soon be prepared to take a benighted petitioner through all the mysteriousness of that splendid secret institution.

The Indian show closed Saturday night after having been here ten days. They gave free exhibitions, which were largely attended. They "Indian Sagwa," and the gentlemen in charge conducted themselves very creditably.

On Thursday evening a large crowd gathered at Ruggles' Opera House to listen to the graduating exercises of the public school. Twenty-one diplomas were granted, and out of this number but two were given to gentlemen. Nineteen young ladies to two gentlemen speak volumes for the former, but is a sad commentary on the latter. The fact is that boys are allowed too many privileges, especially is this the case in towns and cities. If the evenings were spent in study instead of loafing on the streets, they would not be so far behind the girls in their studies. Another good plan would be to establish reading rooms in towns where the best reading matter could be had with but little cost. The maintenance of such rooms each year would doubtless cost less than the prosecution of one criminal, and the benefit to society would be uncalculable.

GEORGE TAYLOR, colored, for assaulting and beating Captain William Killim, of South Portsmouth, was tried in the Greenup Circuit Court last week and sent to the penitentiary for two years.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

"MARRY IN HASTE,

And Repent at Leisure"—J. LeGrand Sirrett Deserts His Wife After a Brief Honeymoon.

Mention was made only a few weeks since of the marriage of Miss Susie Cobb to "Prof." J. LeGrand Sirrett at Evansville, Ind.

Both are known in Maysville. The bride formerly resided here, and graduated a year or so ago from the High School. The man with the high-sounding French name was here a short time last spring teaching penmanship. He was quite successful and had a large class in the course of a few weeks. At the end of that time the people got an insight into his real character, when he went on a crazy drunk one evening, insulted some of his pupils, and then tried to shoot an old colored man on the street. He skipped out and but little was heard of him until a marked copy of an Evansville paper was received giving an account of his marriage.

From this notice it was learned that Miss Cobb's parents were bitterly opposed to her marrying the French writing master. One reason was because of her youth, but the other and principal objection was of her brief acquaintance with Sirrett. The thoughtless young girl refused to heed the advice of her parents, however. One afternoon she and her lover started out for a walk. They returned as Mr. and Mrs. J. LeGrand Sirrett.

The next chapter in her little romance is taken from the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette of yesterday. Here it is: "J. LeGrand Sirrett is the high-sounding appellation of a gentleman who has been brought to the attention of the Police Department of this city. His arrest is anxiously desired, and will be effected if its bearer can be located.

"The letters and telegrams praying for his capture are at police headquarters. They are from Spring Valley, a small town only a short distance from Xenia, O. Sirrett, who is a Frenchman, had been stopping there, at Mr. H. W. Zentmeyer's hotel, with his young invalid wife. He is a handsome, well dressed man, with flowing side-whiskers, who quickly ingratiated himself with the hotel people.

"Two weeks ago he visited Cincinnati with his wife, stopping at the Schneider House, and surprised her by the extent of his acquaintances here. He did nothing, but seemed to command funds, received from some mysterious source.

After his return to Spring Valley they gave out. He owed the landlord a large bill, and when a presentation of the same appeared imminent he fled, leaving his suffering wife behind. The supposition is that he came to Cincinnati, and the police have been placed in possession of his picture, with the request that he be captured. Mrs. Sirrett adds to this her personal appeal that her wrongs also may be avenged. She is sick, destitute and friendless. Mr. Zentmeyer telegraphs that Sirrett owes him a large amount."

THE frescoing of the Christian Church is a very handsome piece of work. The colors are modest and tasteful and the design a very pretty one. Mr. John T. Carnahan, of this city, was the contractor. He is at work now frescoing the west room on the second floor of the Oddfellows' Hall.

JUDGE PUGH, of Vanceburg, and Judge Bennett, of Greenup, went to Frankfort this morning to attend the inauguration and resume their duties in the Constitutional convention. A GENTLEMAN who has known Lexington well for fifty years, and who is well qualified to judge, says that the Lexington of to-day will not compare with that of forty to fifty years ago, as far as intelligence and intellectuality go. Then it sustained its reputation as the "Athens of the West," but now it is nothing but horse, races and such like engaging the attention of the citizens. He says then it was celebrated the country over for its brilliant men; now it is only known as a great horse market.

TO THE RESCUE.

Captain Edgington and Constable Dawson Caught by an Old Trick.

The boys are enjoying a good laugh at the expense of Captain Edgington, of the steamer M. P. Wells, and Constable Dawson.

On the up trip of the Wells yesterday afternoon the Captain came in possession of a bottle that had been found floating in the river. It contained a note, purporting to have been written by a young lady, who said she was sixteen years of age, and had been captured and carried off from home by some villains who held her a prisoner on a shanty-boat at the mouth of Cabin Creek. She begged whoever might find the note to organize a party and come at once to her rescue.

As soon as the steamer reached the wharf the Captain sent at once for an officer to aid in rescuing the fair captive from the villains who held her prisoner. Deputy Marshal Stockdale was first approached, but as soon as he heard the story he caught on to the racket, and told the party to get some one else. He had heard of such cases before.

The Captain next sent for Constable Billy Dawson. A party of ten or twelve was soon organized and heavily armed they boarded the boat, which was at once headed for Cabin Creek under a full head of steam.

In the course of an hour or so they returned, but with no sixteen-year-old maiden. They found a shanty-boat or two, but there was no fair captive.

An Estimate of the Foreign Grain Crop.

BASED ON CONSULAR REPORTS.

The Production and Requirements of the Different Governments for Both Rye and Wheat—Other Information Culled from the Latest Cable News.

VIENNA, Sept. 1.—The Hungarian government has issued an estimate of the world's grain harvest, based upon consular reports from all parts of the world. The yield of wheat is estimated at from 725,000,000 to 738,000,000 hectoliters, (a hectoliter is 2 bushels 3.35 pecks), and rye at from 330,000,000 to 360,000,000 hectoliters, being from 44,000,000 to 50,000,000 hectoliters below the average for rye. Austria requires to import from 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 hectoliters of wheat and 6,000,000 hectoliters of rye, Germany 10,000,000 hectoliters of wheat and 6,000,000 hectoliters of rye, and France 26,000,000 hectoliters of rye, and France 30,000,000 hectoliters of wheat. Hungary has a surplus of 12,000,000 to 13,000,000 hectoliters of wheat, but in rye there is a large deficiency. In Russia the wheat surplus amounts to 16,500,000 hectoliters and the rye deficit amounts to 40,000,000 to 45,000,000 hectoliters.

WILL PADDLE HIS HIS OWN CANOE.

Claus Spreckles Has Not, and Will Not Join the Sugar Trust.

PARIS, Sept. 1.—The New York Herald's European edition published the following: "I mean to paddle my own canoe to the end of the chapter," said Mr. Claus Spreckles, the California sugar king, when I showed him a report cabled from New York that he had joined the sugar trust. "No, I have not joined the trust, nor will I do so, and any Wall street speculator who allows himself to be gulled by the reports that I have does not know me."

Terrible State of Starvation.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A St. Petersburg dispatch says that vast herds of cattle have perished and are perishing in the Ural provinces. Added to the failure of the harvest, owing to the weather and the condition of the soil, came a plague of locusts to devour whatever was left, so that the wretched kirghese not only are starving themselves, but are compelled to see their herds reduced to skeletons and perishing before their eyes.

An Unpopular Mayor.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The mayor of Eastbourne, where so many Salvation Army riots have occurred during the past few months, is likely to resign. It is claimed that he has shown favor to the rioters, and has not prosecuted them with due severity, thus encouraging their lawless proceedings. As a consequence there is a strong demand for his retirement.

Zanzibar's Sultan Declares Himself. LONDON, Sept. 1.—Zanzibar advises to the effect that the sultan has declared his dominions to be within the zone of the Brussels spirits act.

MURDERED BY TRAMPS.

But the Perpetrators of the Crime Are Soon Riddled with Bullets.

MONROE, Mich., Sept. 1.—John Wilkinson and his wife were brutally tortured and murdered by two tramps on Saturday afternoon at their farm near here. The motive of the tramps was robbery. They found the couple at home late in the afternoon and demanded from Wilkinson a sum of money which they had learned he had recently received. Wilkinson refused, whereupon the tramp set upon the farmer and his wife, and, after beating them almost to insensibility, tortured them in the most cruel manner in the hope of extorting from them the hiding place of their money.

Failing in this the tramps became enraged and finished their fiendish work by murdering the couple. Retribution, however, was quick, and justice of the most summary nature was dealt out to the fiends. A ten-year-old son of Farmer Wilkinsons, who had been in an out-house heard the shrieks of his mother, and gave the alarm. The tramps fled, but were hotly pursued by a posse of citizens who came upon them near Maybee station. They were not even given time to say their prayers, but were shot on sight by the infuriated citizens. Their bodies were completely riddled with bullets.

EIGHTEEN LOST.

Eight Sailors Saved from a Crew of Twenty-Six.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The steamship Arizona, which arrived yesterday, brought with her eight members of the crew of the Seagull which was wrecked on the African coast. There were twenty-six all told in the Seagull's crew, and of these all were drowned save the eight men picked up by the Arizona.

When the Arizona found them they were floating on a small raft in the middle of the Atlantic ocean and frantically waving signals of distress. All of them were terribly emaciated from hunger and exposure, and some were hardly able to stand when lifted to the Arizona's decks.

On board the big steamship everything was done for their comfort, and when they arrived here they were much improved in their condition. The officers, as well as passengers, among whom there was considerable excitement, showered attentions upon the shipwrecked men. The eight survivors are the first mate, the cook and six of the crew.

WATERBURY, Conn., Sept. 1.—John Dowling, aged thirty-four, was struck with an ax Saturday night by Michael Karme, and received injuries which will probably prove fatal.
